Amanda the Poet! | Performance of a spoken word piece "Hushed, but not Crushed"

Amanda was born and raised in Pharr, Texas. Amanda always held a tight, hard work ethic in which has given her the opportunity to work in so many different avenues. Amanda turned her youth stubborn rejects into reality that required a lot of work, change, and dedication.

Considered a rebellious child because she always moved against the grade. Sometimes your surroundings can be a heavy hardship.

Amanda grew up expecting nothing for herself, but she always wanted and strived for more. Amanda beat the odds by changing her mentality and perspective. Focusing on changing her outlook, and access. Amanda grew her love working in marketing for the music and television entertainment industry where she combined her local survival skills and introduced it to the National stage working for several companies such as Telemundo, Advertir, Puro Tejano Tv, Drum Squad Productions, Cennarium, and Wall Street. Amanda currently lives in Brooklyn, New York and has published four books. Amanda is also working on an audiobook which too will be available Spring 2020. Her motto is that "Life is peace, love, nature, and poetry through pain, gain, feelings, and obstacles". If someone tells you that you can not do something it is only because they will not attempt to do it themselves.
